

A new al chet by Mekhon Shitim, the archive and educational center of the kibbutz movement, located on Kibbutz Bet Hashitah

1 For the sin we have committed through violence,
2 And for the sin we have committed through coldheartedness.
3 For the sin we have committed through wasting natural resources,
4 And for the sin we have committed through ignoring Israel's treasures.
5 For the sin we have committed through haughtiness,
6 And for the sin we have committed through racism.
7 For the sin we have committed through suppressing the other,
8 And for the sin we have committed through rejecting efforts for peace.
9 For the sin we have committed through privatization,
10 And for the sin we have committed through violating human rights.
11 For the sin we have committed by abandoning values,
12 And for the sin we have committed through squabbling.
13 For the sin we have committed through demeaning parents and teachers,
14 And for the sin we have committed through the degradation of human life.
15 For the sin we have committed through materialism,
16 And for the sin we have committed through poor education.
17 For the sin we have committed through the stupidity of our mouths,
18 And for the sin we have committed through fussiness.
19 For the sin we have committed through the evil inclination,
20 And for the sin we have committed through despair.
21 For the sin we have committed through surrendering to reality.
22 For the sin we have committed through kneeling to money and power,
23 For the sin we have committed through gossiping tongues.
24 And for the sin we have committed through mocking the poor,
25 For the sin we have committed through favoritism.
26 And for the sin we have committed through fraud,
27 For the sin we have committed through exploitation and through alienation.
28 And for the sin we have committed through dangerous driving,
29 For the sin we have committed through trafficking women.
30 And for the sin we have committed through misrepresentation,
31 For the sin we have committed through oppressing the poor.
32 And for the sin we have committed through worshiping human and materialistic gods,
33 For the sin we have committed through social inequity.
34 For the sin we have committed through attacking the weak.
35 For the sin we have committed through cynicism,
36 And for the sin we have committed through excessive consumption.

37For the sin we have committed through hearts of callousness,
38And for the sin we have committed through heads of superficiality.
39For the sin we have committed through gossip,
40And for the sin we have committed through negligence.
41For the sin we have committed through corruption,
42And for the sin we have committed through pointless hatred.
43For the sin we have committed through spreading lies,
44And for the sin we have committed through avarice.
