RABBI ELIGBERG SPEAKS

Dear Haverim,

As the month of June unfolds many of us begin to look for that great summer read; the book or books that we promised ourselves when we could sit back, grab some sun and enjoy a real page turner. With that in mind, I would like to invite you to join me in reading a classic. Some or all of it may have been required reading when you were in school. Parts of it have been made into successful movies and plays. It has inspired countless numbers of authors and artists who used its characters for their literary and artistic purposes. Quotes from it pervade our culture and our language. I am not referring to Star Trek or Star Wars, to the Simpsons or Monty Python, all of whom, I would agree, have achieved a certain iconic status in our society. No, I am referring to the original classic, the one that still sells more copies than anything else, the Bible and specifically the Torah.

Beginning at Sinai, when our ancestors heard the Divine Utterances and entered a unique relationship with God, through the years of wandering in the wilderness where Moshe taught them Torah, continuing during the period of the prophets who exhorted the people to fulfill their sacred potential, to the days of Ezra who taught Torah and made it available to every Jew, across the generations of rabbis, sages and scholars who pored over every word of Torah, finding meaning and guidance in their lives and direction for the Jews in their communities until our day. In the words of Torah we heard the echo of God addressing us directly. We read the responses of our ancestors to the realization of living in the presence of the Holy One and formulate our own.

This month, as we celebrate the moment of the Giving of the Torah on the festival of Shavuot, I invite you to join a very special reading group - Perek Yomi: A Chapter a Day. Sponsored by our Torah Lishma/Adult Education Committee and the Religious Activities Committee, the Perek Yomi experience will begin on the evening of the first night of Shavuot, Sunday June 12 as part of our Tikkun Lel Shavuot program.

We will begin at 8:00 PM with the brief Ma'ariv service that welcomes the holiday followed by a traditional and festive dairy dinner. At 9:00 PM we will read the first chapter of the Book of Genesis using the type of guided reading questions that will accompany each chapter. After reading, we will have the opportunity to share thoughts, insights and questions about the text. At 10:00 PM we will break. Those who wish to remain for further in depth study of the chapter are welcome to do so as the Tikkun will continue until midnight.

Participants in the Perek Yomi group will then continue to read a chapter a day of the Torah. To help preserve the feeling of being part of a group as we had on the first night, groups of eight to ten readers will be formed. These groups will meet once a month to share their encounter with the text with each other. The day and time for each group will be set once people have signed up to participate. In addition, Gary Bergman has created a space on our website where anyone involved in Perek Yomi can post a question, comment or thought about the material we are reading.

Looking into the future, on Tuesday, December 13, we will join together for a special siyyum, a festive celebration marking the conclusion of our the reading of the Torah, the Five Books of Moses, in our Perek Yomi program.

I look forward to reading, studying and learning a chapter a day of Torah with you.

*With blessings,
Rabbi David M. Eligberg*

FOR THE PEOPLE OF THE BOOK: PEREK YOMI

By Rabbi Jerome M. Epstein

Just as our ancestors read from the Tanakh each day, there are many reasons why we must do so as well.

First... to benefit from Jewish wisdom and guidance as contained in the mitzvot interwoven into this timeless text. As Jews, we want to know God's plan, which gives meaning to our lives.

The Tanakh is a tapestry containing the threads of God's plan.

Second... to discern the midot, or values, that distinguish us as Jews. Jewish values are unique -- but they are not transmitted genetically.

The Tanakh is the ultimate source of these values.

Third... to become familiar with the architects of our religion and the times in which they lived. We are who we are because of our history. The promise of Israel; the Exodus and the Temple; the Exile and the Prophets; all play a major role in defining Jews and Judaism.

The Tanakh makes it possible to "experience" our history.

Fourth... to be guided by the ethics and moral standards that challenge us to become God-like in our daily behavior. Jewish ethics are not time bound. They are Divinely inspired, but they are not inaccessible.

The Tanakh makes it possible to be touched by Divine inspiration.

Fifth... to become enriched by the pattern of Jewish living. While its seed was planted in Biblical times, Jewish living has evolved through the ages. Judaism as we live it and celebrate it today is the fruit of that seed.

The Tanakh is the primary source that stimulated Rabbis and Sages throughout the ages to envision Judaism for their own generation. The Tanakh is our Jewish birthright.

Finally... we must read the Tanakh so that we can be lifted from viewing the world as it is, to a perch where we can glimpse a vision of what we can help it to become. Through seeing the universe from the mountains on which Abraham and Sarah, Moses and Miriam, stood, and through feeling the passion of Esther, Ruth, David and Solomon, our lives take on a new and important meaning, a sense of purpose.

The Tanakh blends holiness and humanity. It challenges us to live our lives so that we will make a positive difference to others.

If you lack knowledge, what have you acquired?

If you acquire knowledge, what do you lack?

OUR HAZZAN'S VOICE Cantor Bruce Rockman

Good Night... Laila Tov!

What a busy year it has been. Stacey and I are still spinning with joy. Our new addition Rafi and big sister Bashe are typically keeping us on our toes and we love every minute of it! When your greatest guilty pleasure in life is a good night sleep you know you have children. This means different things to each of us, as our children continue to reach new milestones. Whether it's taking their first steps, getting their driver's license, teething, or getting braces, the first birthday party or a bat mitzvah, when all is said and done, we hope our children will allow us a rare good night's sleep.

Every student and their families whom I prepare for bar or bat mitzvah are unique and the same. One can't really say that they know how someone else feels, although they may have had similar experiences. Yet we teach and learn from these shared experiences. The movie "Groundhog Day" tells a story about a person who is given the opportunity to relive one day in his life, over and over, until he gets it right, until he becomes a whole person. I often equate my experience teaching b'nai mitzvah students with this movie's premise. I'm still trying to get it right. Our goals change as we grow and I consider how successful I have been teaching your children?

Patiently, I work with the children to improve their Hebrew reading ability, I coach them to lead their congregation in prayer and teach them the necessary skills to chant biblical texts. Throughout, the focus is on preparation for their big day. I assure them that they will have a great day. In the end, I am proud as a parent when I see your children flourish in front of our eyes. End of story...well not so fast.

We are taught by the rabbi's that "On three things the world stands, On Torah, on worship or sacrifice and on doing acts of loving-kindness." We teach our children to live by these Jewish values, and we reinforce it by teaching them a song. I really like the song, not to be sarcastic, but teaching the song is only the beginning. So when the students arrive to study with me, am I merely teaching them a song? What values will they learn from me.

With great enthusiasm I discuss doing a mitzvah project with each student and their families. I am aware that a large number of b'nai mitzvah take these values very seriously and we've discussed their progress. But you know, we all have very busy schedules, how much time do any of us have available to volunteer, and how much follow-up do I do? In the halls of our religious school, the walls are covered with information about charitable organizations. Each year our ten year-old, gimel students create these posters as a part of their mitzvah projects. Mrs. Kanarek and her staff help raise the awareness of our children. What is the next step? The next step for me is to teach and inspire my children, and yours, to live by these three things, Torah, Worship or Sacrifice and doing Acts of Loving-kindness, and for me to be a good example. Only then, will I have a good night sleep.

*Worship the Lord in gladness;
come before God with joyous song.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Arie Behar

One of the only guaranteed privileges of being President of Congregation B'nai Tikvah is the reserved parking spot. On Yom Kippur I can arrive at temple knowing that parking is one issue I won't have to concern myself with. While I will reluctantly hand over this privilege to my successor, he will have to discover for himself the other, more meaningful privileges of being Congregational President.

From my perspective as outgoing President, I am excited about our future. Having served on the Board in various capacities for seven years, I see this era in our history as one of the most dynamic and energizing. The new expansion will allow B'nai Tikvah to grow and flourish, welcoming new members and expanding the number and type of programs we can offer. We are no longer just a shul, but have grown into a true Jewish Community Center, as envisioned by our founders.

It was a privilege serving the congregation as President. I am grateful for the opportunity to get to know so many of you, to see your children become b'nai mitzvah, and to sharing my love of Israel with you. I hope to continue to be involved in the Congregation as needed. I am looking forward to shooting baskets with you and to praying with you (from my "old" seat, not on the bima), to hanging out with you in our Jewish home together, and to visiting Israel with you or your children.

Thank you for allowing me to serve as President these past two years. It has been a privilege and an honor.

BOARD AND VP REPORTS

From the May, 2005 Board Meeting

Daniel Greenberg VP Administration

House & Grounds: Thank you to Arie Behar and his company First Property Management for patching the worst of our parking lot potholes, for the cost of the materials alone.

We are still trying to set up half of the old youth lounge as a permanent chapel. We have permanent pews that are being donated to us – the good news is that all we have to do is pick them up. The bad news is that we have to go to East Rockaway, NY (about 5 miles past JFK Airport) to get them. We have the use of a truck; what we need now are people to help. PLEASE CONTACT JEFF CADOFF OR DAN GREENBERG TO VOLUNTEER YOUR TIME. We will try to arrange for a Sunday morning.

There will be a presentation at the Board meeting (by Ben Shapiro) of alarm alternatives for the new wing.

Budget: Budget Committee continues Sunday nights.

Religious Activities: The Siddur dedication service is set for June 10th. Plaques will be put in the new Siddurim before that.

Upcoming programs:

1. Yom Hashoah program on May 4th. South Brunswick Clergy Association plus CBT will be presenting a remembrance program at CBT.

2. Yom Ha'atzmaut program on May 11th "A Taste of Israel" featuring Israeli food, snacks, drink and an Israeli movie. There is no charge for this event, but we have asked for RSVPs to help us gauge the amount of food that is needed.

3. Our first annual Shabbarbeque will held on Friday night, May 27th. The cost is $6 for adults and $4 for children. We are trying to raise more funds by asking people to "sponsor" a grill or a game. The program starts at 6:30 with dinner, 7:15 games and 8pm services. Dress is casual. We will be using the multi purpose room for the games and will be eating outside. We are anticipating a large turnout for this so pray for good weather!

4. Our final Family Shabbat dinner and service for this season will be on May 20th. We will pick up again in the fall. Attendance at this service has increased this year due to the dinner that is offered at an affordable price.

All of the Friday Night Unplugged services will begin at 6:30 pm.

Services on May 20th will begin at 7pm; there will be no 8pm service that night.

The RAC will be opening up a meeting for all congregants to attend who are interested in giving feedback regarding Rosh Hashanah services.

Gary Bergman VP Activities

Adult Education: Our final featured program in May will be a slide show presentation on Yemenite Jewish Culture given by Ravit Bar-Av who is an Information Officer at the Consulate General of Israel in New York.

Website/Communications: Standardizing the look and feel of the various order forms available on the website for such things as, the Lag B'Omer BBQ, Family Shabbat dinners, donation forms, etc. Some automated features were recently added such as the counting of the Omer which is displayed with the current

SHAB-BARBEQUE A FUN TIME!

Thanks to all who helped and attended.

Our Lag Ba'omer Shab-barbeque was held on Friday, May 27th. Over 100 people were in attendance for fun and games (thanks to Barry Safeer), barbecuing and schmoozing, followed by Friday night Shabbat services. Thankfully, the weather more or less held out for us.

The Religious Activities Committee would like to thank the following families for sponsoring grills and games that evening: Lynn and Arthur Biderman, Danny and Caryl Greenberg, Ruth Anne Koenick and Paul Herman, Susan and Kevin Krane, Charlene and Howard Nass, Hope and Tom Peters, Judy and Mark Roller, Rachel Shaneson, Linda and Ben Gottesman, Carol Ann and Michael Harkavy, Adrienne and Herb Mars, Beth and Matt Schurman and Laura and Howard Waksman. Without the support of these congregants, these type of events would not be possible, thanks so much!!!

And thanks to all the committee members who worked so hard, as usual, shopping and setting up: Ruth Anne Koenick, Gale Dillman, Joyce and Joel Gerbman, Barry Safeer, Ann Rosenzweig and Marc Binder. Your behind the scenes help is also appreciated.

To anyone who helped out that night and are not listed, many, many thanks.

ANOTHER VIEWPOINT

Aaron Rosloff

On Scouting at CBT

My first black friend was a Boy Scout. We lived in a mostly Jewish middle class working neighborhood. Robert Maxwell was the only black kid that I knew. He was the scribe in our Scout troop, probably because he was the brightest and most studious of the boys. Except for Robert, all the other kids in our patrol were Jewish, and when we would attend the weekly patrol meetings in each others homes, other than a quick "is anybody hungry", the parents paid little attention to us. I remember my Pop's smile of surprise the first time that Robert came to our house, but he made no comment. At the time I gave it no thought at all, other than I was glad to have this smart kid in our patrol. Only much later did I understand why the first time that we met in Robert's home, we were greeted with wide welcoming smiles.

We learned the scout motto and the pledge by heart, and repeated them at the appropriate times as part of the ritual, and without realizing that we were doing so, we became indoctrinated and habituated to cooperation, responsibility and inclusiveness of others. We learned to do things for our mutual benefit and gained stature and approval for community work.

Our patrol's elected project for one year, was to build a large flying model of a Piper Cub. The model would have a wing span of five feet and would be, for us, very expensive. (A nickel was worth more than a dollar today.) To raise funds we ran a raffle. To have it printed we convinced a local printer to do the job with the understanding that he would get paid from the proceeds of the raffle, and with the remainder, after awarding the prize, we bought the plans and supplies for the model.

We cut up the plans and split up the job among the members of the patrol. The wings, body parts and tail assembly were all built separately and when we were ready, we brought the parts to one house and spent an entire Sunday putting them together. The cabin windows were made from cellophane salvaged from cigarette packages, but we could not afford a gasoline engine so we powered the propeller with yards of a special rubber string.

This was a lesson in cooperation that remained with me for the rest of my life. It sparked my interest in aviation, and led to my becoming a crew chief at Foster Field, Texas during World War II.

Let's skip ahead about thirty years, to my son Jay's invitation to represent New Jersey at the International Jamboree in Idaho. The headquarters of American Boy Scouts was at that time located right here in North Brunswick, at the intersection of Routes 1 and 130. (Was it moved to Texas for reasons of finance, politics or super egos, I don't know) When the boys returned to Boy Scout headquarters from the event, local parents were asked to invite a foreign boy home for a few days to give them a sense of life in the United States.

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL REPORTS

Ann Kanarek, Director

SHAVUOT: ITS MEANING AND MESSAGE TODAY

Although we do not often think about the origins of Shavuot, the Torah refers to a harvest festival when farmers would make pilgrimage to Jerusalem to offer a tithe of their first fruits or first barley grains to the Temple. Like most Jewish holidays, we tend to think more about the historical significance than the earlier agricultural meaning. Our rabbis did just that by giving Shavuot another name, Z'man Matan Torateinu, Season of the Giving of Our Torah, associating Shavuot with the day when the people accepted the Torah.

The earliest reference to Shavuot as Z'man Matan Torateinu is in the Talmud. By forging a link between the giving of the Law at Mount Sinai and the earlier harvest festival, the Rabbis were able to give greater significance to the festival. The celebration of this major event in our history re-establishes the covenant between God and the Jewish people. This year we celebrate the holiday of Shavuot on Monday, June 13 and Tuesday, June 14. Best wishes for a happy holiday!

Chag Sameach!!

SUGGESTIONS FOR JEWISH LEARNING DURING VACATION

Although formal Jewish education for the students in our religious school is at a hiatus until September, there are many things that you can do Jewishly that are educational, interesting, and lots of fun. Here are some suggestions:

- * While on vacation, search out the local synagogue wherever you might be.
- * Spend some time in our local Jewish museums and those of any city you are visiting.
- * Check out the Jewish book section in your local bookstore, or in the public library.
- * Browse through our own synagogue library and check out a few books on topics you like to know more about.
- * Buy a new Jewish cookbook and experiment with a recipe you've been meaning to try out.
- * Make your family tree — see how many generations back you can go.
- * If a child in your family is approaching Bar/Bat Mitzvah, complete the 13 Mitzvot program.
- * Make a list of all the things you always wanted to do Jewishly, never had a chance to do, and try some of them.
- * Brush up on your Hebrew.
- * Do a mitzvah at least once a week.

And, above all, whatever your family's plans for the summer,

*I hope that it will be a wonderful one.
Best wishes for a relaxing and enjoyable summer!!*

Israel Bond Breakfast at B'nai Tikvah - A Big Success! Almost $400,000 Raised!

On Sunday May 22, we hosted an outstanding event honoring Rabbi David & Jodi Eligberg. Attended by over 100 people, commitments for Investments/Loans approached $400,000 and will likely grow in the coming weeks.

The keynote speaker, Mr. Gil Elan, spoke about the upcoming withdrawal of 9,000 Israelis from Gaza and the challenges of conducting a safe and successful exit. The cost to Israel is estimated at $1.25 Billion USD, and will probably go much higher.

Announcing: Cub Scout Pack 18

WHAT WE HAVE: We got number 18! The Boy Scouts of America approved our application for the number 18 for our Cub Scouts to wear proudly on their uniforms. We also have a meeting place, a supportive board and Rabbi, and a goal. That of starting a kosher, Shabbat observant Cub Scout Pack, right here at our very own JCC.

WHAT WE NEED ARE BOYS THAT MAY BE INTERESTED IN JOINING IN SEPTEMBER. If your son is going into 1st - 4th grade in September, and you have the slightest inkling of an idea that he might be interested in Scouting, let us know. This way, once we get the ball rolling, we'll know to contact you. Send an e-mail to cubscouts@BnaiTikvah.org, and let us know.

ATTENTION ALL EAGLE SCOUTS AND QUEEN SCOUTS: (What's a Queen Scout? send me an email to find out). We need your experience and input. Tell us what made Scouting great for you, and maybe even what didn't. Tell us what you can pass on to the next generation. Help make this goal a reality. Send an e-mail, and let us know.

Do You Yahoo? (Why you should)

Over two-thirds of our members belong to one or more of B'nai Tikvah's various Yahoo Groups:

CBT Newsletter
eGroup discussion group
Israeli Youth Exchange
Israel Travel
Men's Club
Committee Chairs
Budget Committee
Board of Directors
New Beginnings
Politics
Sons of Tikvah

You don't have to be a member of Yahoo to receive email from these groups, but it helps. With a Yahoo ID, you can have free access to the areas of the website for which you are subscribed. For instance, as a new member of the budget committee, you could review all the messages of that group from its inception and you could log in to the group's website to send them a message when you're not at your own computer. But, most important, all subscribers of the CBT News group (even if you don't receive mail) have access to board minutes and other documents of interest. If you don't how to get a Yahoo Id, call me and I'll walk you through it.

ONLINE COMMUNITY

I often try to write something about B'nai Tikvah's eGroup to encourage more members to sign up. Just the other day, two more reasons for subscribing occurred. 1) A congregant asked advice for locating a reliable contractor and. 2) Someone posted a local job offer. Hopefully by now both the contractor was found and the job was filled, benefiting one or more B'nai Tikvah members. It often pays to put up with the occasional joke, recipe, or friendly advice, in the hope of being of service to a fellow congregant. And you never know, sometime you could be on the receiving end of a valued concert of sports ticket that one of us had to sell or give away at the last moment. It's easy to join the "eGroup" with a short note to Webmaster@BnaiTikvah.org or visit the communications section of our website.

BOARD AND VP REPORTS From the May, 2005 Board of Trustees Meeting

Gregorian and Hebrew dates on our home page.

Bikkur Cholim: The committee, chaired by Sheryl Olitzky, arranges visits to congregants who are ill or hospitalized. Please, if you know of anyone who may be in need, contact the synagogue office.

Cindy Gittleman VP Membership

Chai Member's Club: The opening event for the Chai Member's Club will take place on May 15th. It will be a social evening to kick off this new membership group. 136 families will be invited to attend. The hope is to keep our members active who have been longtime members of the synagogue.

Tee Shirts: B'nai Tikvah wear was well received this year and will continue to be sold. Come the Spring we will begin to sell again on Sundays, but tee shirts can always be requested for purchase on the website.

Prospect List: Membership keeps and active up-to-date list of prospective members who have shown an interest in B'nai Tikvah. For a copy of this list to invite to a synagogue event, please contact Cindy Gittleman.

"A Very Sweet Oneg Shabbat": Membership will host the Friday night Oneg Shabbat on June 24th to say "Thank You" to the many, many members of our synagogue who have helped over the past 25 years keep B'nai Tikvah full of activity and community spirit. This invitation will be in the May Hakol and combined with the 2005 Installation of new Officers for the synagogue.

Marketing Plan: There has been some opening discussions about how to approach external marketing for the synagogue in a more cohesive manner. Volunteers are needed to develop a steering committee to discuss this important issue.

Mitch Frumkin Past President

Construction: The building is rapidly approaching completion. There are a number of final details to complete, but it is hoped that by next month's report I will be able to say that we have received our Certificate of Occupancy and are using the building.

Feedback Committee: The Feedback Committee has not met as we have not received any feedback from the Congregation although we have been advertising in Hakol.

Nominating Committee: The Nominating Committee has met a number of times and will be presenting the following slate at the Congregational Meeting for the next Executive Committee. We are meeting again at the end of April to work on our recommendations for the open Board positions. If anyone has any suggestions, please let me know.

2006 Fundraiser Event: Next year's event is only around corner. Start thinking about how we can make next years a successful event. Please come and talk to either Gary Warner or myself on you can help.

Giants Raffle: Irwin Millinger will be kicking off a raffle in early June. We will have 2 45-yard line NY Giants seats for the season that we will be raffling off. Each chance will cost $50.00. It is a great opportunity for any Giants or football fan.

Printer Cartridges: We are collecting ink jet cartridges. There is a box in the office please just drop them off. CBT will receive $2.00 per cartridge. We have received several hundred dollars so please keep on bringing in the cartridges.

Supermarket Scrip & Retail Scrip: Marc Binder is leading the charge on selling the scrip. Thank you to those who have stepped up to help. We still need a few more volunteers.

E-Bay: We are officially ready to start listing items on E-Bay. Bonnie Kudwitt is our point person, and we are looking for additional help. Start looking around to find anything that would be sellable on E-Bay. Please bring it into the office. Thanks VM for your support!!!!

Refinancing: We are waiting for the C.O. before we continue on.
