Services at 11:00 am for the High Holy Days

A Message From Rabbi Robert Wolkoff

“Fasten your seatbelts. It’s going to be a bumpy night.”

Betty Davis, in All About Eve

The High Holy Days will begin soon and, this year, all of my sermons are linked to a common theme: truth. I feel that in many ways, we find ourselves in a truth-crisis, and this is a matter that simply has to be addressed.

As a Jew who is familiar with our sacred texts, I find talking about “the” truth a little bit odd. If there is anything that our tradition teaches, it is that we must respect a multiplicity of beliefs. Many of the Bible’s most famous passages involve arguments and differing perspectives. Virtually every page of Talmud has Rabbi X saying one thing and Rabbi Y saying the opposite. One of the most common phrases in the midrashic interpretations of the Torah is “davar acher,” meaning, “Here’s another take on the same verse...,” a take that may contradict the previous view, or go off in another direction altogether.

So the idea that there are alternative interpretations of the facts is about as built into Judaism as the idea that pig isn’t kosher. But note: we’re talking about alternative interpretations, not alternative facts. As one of my heroes, Daniel Patrick Moynihan, once said, “Everyone is entitled to his own opinion, but not his own facts.”

And unfortunately, tragically, dangerously, there are altogether too many “own facts” in circulation right now. They impact every aspect of our lives, and not for the good. Unless we do something about it, we, as individuals, as Americans, and as Jews, will pay a high price. So I will be talking truth on these High Holy Days, and, as they say in the South, I’m gonna testify. Like Betty Davis advised, we’ll all need to fasten our seat belts.

Trust me.

On the first day of Rosh Hashanah, I will be speaking on “The Assault on Truth.” The second day of Rosh Hashanah, the topic will be “The Truth about America.” On Kol Nidrei, the theme is “The Truth about Israel.” And finally, for Yizkor, I will address “The Truth about Us.”

Honestly speaking, I am deeply concerned about these sermons and the impact they will have. They will be forceful, provocative, and some might say incendiary. Although they will not be partisan, they will certainly be political, because they have to be.

The political issues in our country and in the world are the 800-pound gorilla in the room. I would be doing the congregation a disservice to ignore them. And not only the congregation. We read in Psalms that our G-d is “the G-d of truth.” (Ps 31:5)

On Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, we seek to reconcile ourselves with the G-d from whom we have strayed in the past year (and in years past). We will not get very far on our journey if the road we travel is paved with falsehood.

Getting off that road will make for one bumpy night, but I pray that taking another look at the roadmap and correcting our course will bring us to smoother paths as the sun rises on the new year.

May it be one of blessing for us all. With love,

Rabbi Robert L. Wolkoff

My Greatest Reward

Week after week, walking home from Shabbat services with Gordon Heit, I would express my excitement about our “trip of a lifetime” to Israel. Gordon would smile and I’d go on and on expressing my excitement. About a week ago I said to Gordon, it really was a “trip of a Lifetime,” one of the most memorable and special experiences of my life. Gordon smiled and responded, “Yes it was.”

As you know, at every opportunity, I extol the virtues of Israel and traveling to our spiritual, emotional, and ancestral homeland. All Jewish people, regardless of our practice, hold Israel as our common bond.

Experiencing Israel with my congregational family along with my family, was off the charts amazing. All of my visits to Israel have been special; the mission was often different. Last year Stacey and I traveled in the winter in order to recharge our spirits. We’ve been blessed to introduce Israel to our children, Bashe and Rafi, at an early age, thus informing their souls, creating memories of a lifetime. I started visiting Israel 36 years ago while my sister Pamela was a student at Bat Ilan University and, later, I had the opportunity to learn at the Conservative Yeshiva in Jerusalem.

What was so special about this trip? We were 38 people on a big orange bus; from ages 8-77, together we learned about, explored and experienced Israel.

We rode donkeys and horses, rafted on the Jordan River, rode the rocky terrain in jeeps on the Golan Heights, picked 700 pounds of tomatoes (performing the mitzvah of gleaning the fields of leftovers) which later were donated to the needy. We floated in the Dead Sea, toured Masada, experienced an archeological dig, visited historic and biblical sights. We walked on dirt and sand, climbed rocks, waded through water in the Western Wall Tunnels and, therefore, we were able to eat a lot of delicious Israeli food.

The culmination of our tour was our emotional Bar Mitzvah service at Robinson’s Arch, the egalitarian prayer area adjacent to the Kotel. All 38 of our B’nai Tikvah family, friends and our tour guide celebrated the affirmation of our B’nai Mitzvah boys; Michael, Rafi, Liam, and Jacob all received alliyot, chanted from the Torah, and then we all danced and wished each other a hearty mazel tov!

Watching each individual’s excitement throughout the trip was my greatest reward. Stacey planned this remarkable trip; my role was to be me, to be present and available; this experience alone filled me with joy. Knowing that our community was growing closer and increasing our connection to Israel and our Jewish heritage was simply exciting.

We all came back to New Jersey with the promise to return home, to Israel as soon as possible. Stacey and I will be planning our next congregational Israeli excursion for the summer of 2021. We really hope that you will join us.

First committee meeting will be held on Monday, Sept. 17th at 8:00 PM (after minyan).

From our President Adrienne Ross

It is hard to believe that another year has passed and the “Fall Holidays” are once again upon us. This time of year, as appropriate, I often find myself reflecting on the year that has passed. This year, more than others, I have reflected on “our kehillah” that we fondly call Congregation B’nai Tikvah.

As I complete my first year as President, I reflect on the things we have done to strengthen our Congregation...and the areas where we could do even better. I have been pleasantly surprised at how easy it has been to get many people to say “yes” when I reached out for help, guidance, advice and, yes, sometimes even financial support. I personally want to thank those who have been there this year (and you know who you are) to help me and jump in on some of the key things we needed to tackle.

When I think of CBT, I often quote Gary Tinkel who, last year at our 40th Anniversary Brunch, noted that CBT was a place you joined, and stayed, because of the community we are. What I also appreciate is how important it is to give people a reason to stay...and feel like they belong...and never take things for granted.

Last fall, I met with a group of CBT members who have moved to Monroe Township. They were a mixture of founding members and newer members...and all had the common desire to stay connected. We brainstormed together and, from our discussion, came the idea of having “Coffee and Conversation” with the Rabbi in Monroe and a Shabbat Dinner for “Empty Nesters” in June. The best part was the spirit of volunteerism that arose to make things happen. Our “coffee and conversation” was so popular that we had to find a space since meeting in one home became “oversold.” And, for those that participated in the dinner last June, over 100 of us shared Shabbat dinner together followed by “Friday Night Plugged In” with our own Sons of Tikvah. These events are on the calendar for the coming year, along with many others!

I will admit that, as President, I also learn of when we fail to serve a community member. While I wish we could rewrite history, what has been important is to reach out to the member, admit failure, and then figure out what we can do to ensure that we don’t repeat this (while also doing our best to mend fences). A work in progress...but one that must continue.

So, with the Holiday’s before us, I look forward to greeting all of you and wishing you a G’mara Tov. May the coming year bring us all that we hope for...a year of health, happiness and good deeds.

Best,

Adrienne

Thanks From the Smoller Family

Rosh Hashanah celebrates the creation of the world and is a period of introspection. In ancient times, it was believed that apples have healing properties, and honey signifies hope that the new year will be sweet. We’ve prayed for a new start and it may just be upon us.

Syndi, Doug, Seth, Becca, & Mason

It’s been an emotional journey to say the least. We are not the only family to face obstacles. To struggle balancing everyday life and chronic health issues. To see our children suffer and feel helpless. The world around us kept moving and we were stuck. We were stagnant in our world of migraines, meningitis, anxiety, frustration, and disappointments. The events we missed. The time we lost. The hard-earned savings we watched disappear. The desire to just be happy for one day or a few hours.

Thankfully, I’ve been blessed with the most incredible partner in life. Doug and I faced each obstacle together and head-on trying to appreciate the little things along the way, to accept help when offered, and to laugh as much as possible. The laughter certainly helped Mason, Becca and Seth get through many rough days. It was - and still is - the only way we could push forward. Stay optimistic. Keep our heads held high and show our children that family, friends who are family, and at times, acquaintances and even strangers — will be there to give you strength you didn’t know you have, help you didn’t ever expect to need, and love that you will forever be grateful for. We are truly fortunate!

This new start — our soon-to-be-completed, mold-free reconstructed home and our improving health — would never have been possible without the love, support, overwhelming generosity and prayers of our B’nai Tikvah family and dear friends. Those who made it their mission to act fast and exhaust every resource available to us. Rabbi Wolkoff, Cantor Rockman, Ruth Anne Koenick, and Allison Nagelberg, Tammy and Keith Zimmerman, LouAnne Wolf, Adrienne Rogove, Brad Cohen, David Cukor, and our dear friends Lauren & Andrew Cohen and Shari & Jon Tell - you are all remarkable. To Federation and Laura Safran, Michelle Rich of USY/USCJ, South Brunswick Township Social Services, Jewish Family Services of Middlesex County, Central Elementary School, and more, we've been humbled. We've been brought to tears many times. And we know one day we'll be able to pay-it-forward.

Thank you isn't enough, but I hope you will accept our gratitude with a smile, along with our sincere wishes for a healthy, happy, extra sweet New Year and L'shanah Tovah Tikatev V'tihatem - May you be inscribed and sealed for a good year.

The JCC Early Childhood Center

As I write this first Hakol article in my position as Director of the Early Childhood Center, I am very excited about my new role. I am looking forward to greeting many new families as well as our returning families.

Carol Winter,
Director

The JCC is a very special school with a long history of excellence. I can proudly say that I have personally had the delightful pleasure of teaching so many young children in our community who often stop by many years later to say "Hello" and talk about their wonderful memories of their preschool days at our school.

I believe that children are like fresh clay – they are always full of curiosity and with a natural sense of exploration. Seeing and being with them every single day and learning from and with them as learning partners brings me great joy.

Let the exploration and joy of a brand new school year begin! I am looking forward to it!

With warm wishes for a very happy, healthy, and sweet New Year!

Why am I doing this?

Gary Bergman

Although for years, I have found ways to significantly reduce our maintenance costs, people at B'nai Tikvah who know me, understand that the last thing they would expect me to do was take charge of the synagogue's finances. They're probably correct. So, how could I do this and other rhetorical questions? The answer is easy. I have some great people to work with. Jeff Schwartz offered to organize an "Affordable" Art Auction, Joe Plotnick offered to chair a fund-raising gala to honor our ritual leaders, Barry Safeer has some good ideas for improving our gift-card program, Marc Rosen and Craig Cohen are working on our "brick" fundraiser, and I also have some ideas of my own. There's no end to the help we need to ensure the survival of our unique synagogue and community center. If you have new thoughts to share, I'd love to hear from you.

If Wile E. Coyote had enough money to buy all that ACME stuff, why didn't he just buy dinner?

Membership Update from our Vice President Bobbi Binder

Where are we going this year?

It's been one year since I volunteered to be VP of Membership at B'nai Tikvah. It's been a fun and challenging year. Of the 15 new members who took advantage of our one-year free membership, all but one have become members. As I write this article, we are on the same path as last year with regard to people taking advantage of our one year free membership.

We had a table at National Night Out in August in South Brunswick. It was great to see so many familiar faces. We had a number of inquiries about our synagogue from non-members, so this was a great way to keep our name out there.

Now – let's get on to the exciting part of my position. I sent an email out in July about a new program at our synagogue. In the fall of 1994, my husband Marc and I started the Family Shabbat service. Within a few years, we knew that, to really attract people, we should feed them! Our vision to have people come to dinner and stay for services has been a success. We would like to be able to share this model with everyone this year.

I have worked closely with Cantor Rockman, both as our Cantor and in his new capacity as Religious School Director, and with Rabbi Wolkoff, to rebrand Family Shabbat into "Shabbat Together." Our idea is to gather for a monthly meal with varied menus at 6:15pm. Gayle Schindler will be the coordinator of the team.

We will welcome "Shabbat Together" as a community. At 7:10 following dinner, Marc and I will lead the Family Shabbat service. At 7:30pm, our regular Friday night service will begin in the sanctuary. The dates are listed in the calendar and will be in our weekly announcements, on our website, and in each issue of Hakol. We will kick off our season with Hunan in the Hut on September 28th.

We already have an active, excited committee – it's not too late for you to join. We need people to shop, cook, and set up, along with a few other tasks. Joining this committee does not mean that you have to commit to every single meal, nor does it mean you have to attend the dinners (although why wouldn't you, they are sure to be yummy)!

Marc and I are looking forward to spending many Shabbat meals with you this coming year. You can reach me by phone or text at 732-690-4779 or email bobbijbinder@gmail.com.

The Religious School Committee

Sharon Cohen

Suzanne Oliver

As summer comes to a close, we would like to take the time to welcome you back! We hope everyone had a relaxing summer and is ready to start a new school year! First, we would like to introduce ourselves to the new families. We are Suzanne Oliver and Sharon Cohen and we are the Religious School co-chairs. This year will be an exciting one since we will be welcoming our Cantor as the new Director of Education.

The Religious School committee meets monthly to discuss issues that affect our children and their religious education. We also plan for great events to happen this year. We will have our annual Synagogue Chanukah party in December, a pound exercise class, a jewelry fundraiser for a great cause in February, a wonderful Passover Seder in April and many more enjoyable activities! Our committee always is looking to grow! We encourage all those interested in helping to join us on the committee, even if it is not possible to make monthly meetings. We do much of our planning through emails, phone calls, etc., so any input is greatly appreciated. Getting involved is the best way to truly feel that you are a part of the CBT family. Our first meeting of the year will be on the third Sunday in September. To learn more, please email to Goldberg_sharon@hotmail.com or Suzanneloliver@yahoo.com

We are truly excited to start the 2018-2019 school year!

Please be on the lookout for the Religious School calendar for all important dates, JET parent programs and many more!!!

Thanks and enjoy the rest of your summer!!!

Israel 2018

Shalom Chaverim!

My name is Alyssa C. Buckwald, I am 10 years old and I just came back from my first ever trip to Israel! My grandparents took me and my family to Israel with Congregation B'nai Tikvah to celebrate my brother's Bar Mitzvah! Israel was a blast!

In Israel everyone tried a handful of new Israeli food; Homemade Pita, Egg Pita, Pita with Ricotta Cheese, Shawarma, Hummus, Shakshuka, Falafel, Shnitzel, and many more treats. My personal favorite was Israeli Ice Cream with American flavors.

The Congregation also went on some crazy adventures; like hiking through Ein Gedi, dipping our feet in the cooling waterfall, (or getting drenched.) Another crazy adventure was the Jeep tour up the Golan Heights and taking a dip in the refreshing spring waters. Along the way we munched on fresh, juicy, Israeli Watermelon, had an amazing view of the Syrian border, and a "delightful" bumpy ride.

One of my favorite parts was visiting Kfar Kedem to learn about the Talmudic lifestyle. We wore historic clothing, made homemade pita; by kneading the dough, and placing it on the grill. We also had a Talmudic style lunch. My favorite part of the visit was riding the mules around the grassy field, (mine was named Vanilla, she was a majestic, large, white mule with some spots here and there.)

Another one of my favorite parts was going Bat Ya'ar Horse Ranch, to "saddle up" and take a wild horseback ride through the magnificent countryside. In addition, we had a surprise music workshop.

In Israel, we were so busy touring we had little time to shop, but I got some very special items that I will cherish forever. When we went to Safed to have lunch and to stroll through the stores and art galleries, I found the Tallit of my dreams! I look forward to wearing it at my Bat Mitzvah in two years, on November 21, 2020.

THANKS FOR A VERY SUCCESSFUL MITZVAH

Our Executive Administrator, Lynne WeissMarshall, had suggested we change our traditional Sunday morning Blood Drive to Monday evenings. The resulting turnout has been excellent. This summer, we maxed the capacity of Community Blood Services of NJ. The staff didn't have an idle moment and, although some people had to wait to be taken, everyone who was able to donate blood, did so.

The next bloodletting will be Monday evening, January 14th, 5-9pm, in the gym.

Asking or offering help to fellow congregants

B'nai Tikvah's email "eGroup" initially was designed as a discussion list, but it has evolved to become our unofficial bulletin board for classified ads. If you need to buy or sell something or wish to seek advice from your fellow congregants, this resource could be invaluable. The eGroup is exclusive to CBT and is totally free of outside spam. To join, just obtain a (free) Yahoo-id and visit groups.yahoo.com/group/bnaitikvah
